PADUCAH, KENTUCKY, SATURDAY, JUNE 21, 1902.

10 CENTS PER WEEK.

GEN. MURRAY BACK AFTER THE C. & E. I.

He Had a Good Time With the President and Invited Him to Ky.

Two New Oil Wells Near Barbourville—A Disappointed Mob at Wickliffe.

REWARD FOR GEORGE LYONS.

BACK FROM WASHINGTON.

Frankfort, June 21—Adjutant General David R. Murray returned last night from Washington, where he went in the interest of the Kentucky war claim. General Murray was delighted with his reception by President Roosevelt, to whom he conveyed the invitation from Governor Beckham to visit him when he comes to Kentucky this fall.

NEW OIL WELLS.

Barbourville, Ky., June 21—Two new oil wells came in on rich land and a third one is expected any minute. Their capacity is between five and fifty barrels each, and both belong to the Atlantic and Pacific Oil company.

DIDN'T GET THE NEGRO.

Wickliffe, June 21—There is still excitement here over the action of Taylor Abbey, the negro who pursued Miss Annie Hobbs while on her way home with a young sister. A posse was organized and Abbey was arrested and lodged in jail here. A mob of 75 men went to the jail to lynch him, but he had been removed to Clinton.

BIG REWARD OFFERED.

West Liberty, Ky., June 21—George Lyons, who shot and killed Dock Ferguson on the East Fork of Paint Creek, this county, is still at large. A reward of $600 has been offered for the capture of Lyons and delivery to the jailer here.

RECEPTION COMMITTEE.

THE Y. M. C. A. MUSIC CLUB HAD A FINE REHEARSAL LAST NIGHT.

The reception committee failed to meet at the Y. M. C. A. last night, and another meeting has been called for tonight. Last night being pay car night, several members found it impossible to be in attendance, and to-night the arrangements for the big reception will be made if the committee can be gotten together.

The mandolin and guitar club met last night and had an excellent rehearsal. It will prepare a special program for the reception, and the progress made by the members, those who have not had much experience in playing, will be surprising.

It has been suggested that the association management get up a big orchestra concert for the benefit of the association. There is excellent talent here, and an orchestra of twenty could be gotten up for the occasion. The management has not acted on the suggestion, however, but will look into the matter and see if it is possible to make the arrangements.

U. D. C. ENTERTAINMENT.

The local chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy are arranging to give an ice cream supper next Wednesday evening on the lawn of Dr. D. G. Murrell's residence on Broadway. It will be quite a pleasant occasion. The chapter intends erecting a Confederate monument to the dead here, and are working for that purpose.

A Railroad Rumor of Great Interest to People in This Section.

It Is Reported That I. C. Will Buy the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad.

RUMOR SO FAR UNCONFIRMED

Rumors continue to be circulated that the Chicago and Eastern Illinois will change hands soon. It has all along been the opinion that if the Eastern Illinois does change hands it will come under the control of J. P. Morgan and be made a part of the Louisville and Nashville system, which is looking for a direct Chicago outlet. Lately, however, the Illinois Central has been prominently mentioned as the prospective purchaser, and the rise in Eastern Illinois stock during the last week or two is said to be due to buying of the Illinois Central.

The Illinois Central could use the Eastern Illinois as the Chicago end of its Cincinnati-New Orleans line by extending it or acquiring an outlet for it to Cincinnati or Louisville from Terre Haute, but otherwise it would have no other use for it than to prevent the St. Louis Southwestern, a Gould line, from getting it. The Eastern Illinois having lately been extended to Thebes, Ill., the eastern terminus of the St. Louis Southwestern.

The Illinois Central also has a line to Thebes and is interested with the Eastern Illinois and St. Louis Southwestern in building a bridge across the Mississippi river there.

BASEBALL NOTES

Many Outside Clubs Anxious to Play in Paducah.

As Yet no Schedule Has Been Arranged—Game in Golconda the 29th.

Since some definite action has been taken in regard to the baseball and gun club park, the local baseball promoters have received many communications from foreign clubs who want to play here.

Paducah has always been known as an excellent baseball town and all that it needed to place her in her former position in this sport was a ball park, and now that she will shortly have this Paducah will once more come within the notice of the sporting world. Mr. Walter Wilkins, formerly manager of the club, has received many letters from out of town clubs all wanting to visit Paducah and play a series of games. The "Nebraska Indians," a team of Indians, want to play and also do the "St. Louis Lindemans," a professional team also. There are several other professional teams that want a date but a regular calendar will be arranged later and all teams given a chance. It is possible to get dates for every day the remainder of the season and the local team will not have to leave the city. It will make a circuit however when things assume a smooth running order and great things are expected. Manager Sam Jackson is arranging with several professional players and will have his team signed before long.

Mr. Newt Atkinson, who has just finished the season at the Hopkinsville college with the baseball club of that institution, has returned to the city and will probably play with the Paducah professional team. Mr. Atkinson, with his catcher, Mr. Walter Wilkins, will play with the Golconda team on Sunday, the 29th at that city.

The Golconda team will play a game against the DeKoven team, one of the strongest teams in that portion of the state, and an excellent game is assured. An excursion will probably be run out of Paducah to enable the local fans to see the game.

Miss Bettie Miller, of Louisville, who has been visiting here during the winter, returned home today at noon.

THE THROW WAS TOO STRONG—GET ANOTHER CATCHER.

WEEK'S NEWS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD.

Clearings this week, $573,131.
Last year, same week, $586,066.
Decrease, $12,935.

Wholesale trade is fair, for the season of the year, in all lines. Some houses report dealers very conservative in their buying, and the dull season setting in just a little premature. It is a fact, more noticeable each year, that the business of the country seems to be coming to an eight-month year basis. All the business possible is done in the months which are good for doing business, and the other months are set aside for recreation and recuperation. This is the case in the East, and is observed to some extent in Paducah.

THAT CANAL BILL

It Will be Battled Over in Conference Now.

The House Non-Committal in the Senate's Amendment to Nicaragua Canal Bill.

PANAMA OR NONE AT ALL.

Washington, June 21—The house has non-committed in the senate amendment to the Nicaragua canal bill and agreed to the conference asked for by the senate. Messrs. Hepburn, Fletcher and Davey were appointed conferees on behalf of the house.

There is a very sanguine feeling expressed in cabinet circles as to the success of the canal proposition. Secretary Hay had a long conference before the cabinet with Senator Morgan and other senators, and all the advice that had come to the White House before the cabinet meeting went to assure the president that the canal legislation at the pending session is a certainty and almost as strong was the evidence that legislation would be in favor of the Panama project. So well assured is the administration of the outcome that discussion already has taken place for the steps to be taken to carry out the purposes of the act, and it is understood that the state department will deal with the diplomatic features of the canal project, involving, of course, the consummation of the Colombia treaty, while the attorney general will pass upon the question of sufficiency of title to the Panama canal.

A bill was passed to recognize the military service of the officers and enlisted men of the First regiment of Ohio light artillery. This regiment served three months at the opening of the civil war, but was never formally mustered into the United States service.

TO FORCE INTO BANKRUPTCY.

An effort is being made by creditors at Memphis to force the Jackson Drug company of Jackson, Tenn., into involuntary bankruptcy. The assignment of the firm was made in February, and the defendant will have to appear at Memphis Wednesday, June 26th, and show cause why the petition should not be granted. Among the creditors are the Sutherland Medicine company, Paducah, whose account is something over $50.

Little Misses Mary Scott and Nell O'Dwell went to Dawson this morning to visit.

HE SAVED THREE STRIKING ORATORY

Peter Dowling Appears in the Role of a Hero in California.

The Well Known Former Paducah Baseball Player Rescues Three From Death.

PAPERS WIDELY COMMENT.

Pete Dowling, the erstwhile south-paw of Paducah when her club was in Central League a few years ago, and later a member of the Louisville club in the National League, had been lost sight of for a year or more until today, when he was located in California by dispatches in the papers telling of how he is a hero at Sacramento, Cal., by reason of having saved three men from drowning.

Pete was sold by Paducah to the Louisville club before the end of the season of Central League, and pitched good ball with the Colonels. By many he was regarded as one of the most remarkable pitchers in America, but he couldn't stand the gait, and was finally "farmed out" to Milwaukee, and had since pitched in smaller leagues.

He is now playing in California and a dispatch says:

Sacramento, Cal., June 20—Peter Dowling, the baseball player, has saved the lives of three men. Patrolman Dupage, Alexander Stevens and James McGrath were bathing in the river. Stevens got into trouble and Dupage went to his aid. They both went down, and McGrath, in trying to get them out, became exhausted and helpless. Dowling dashed into the deep water and succeeded in dragging the three men to a sandbar.

TROUBLE BEGINS

The City Must Move its Dog House From the City Hall.

Will Probably Be Located Down Near the Barracks Below the City.

The city is experiencing its first trouble over the enforcement of the dog law. Monday morning Marshal Crow will begin paying 25 cents each for dogs on which no license has been paid.

"The pound" is a small house back of the city hall, and after the dogs have been confined therein for several hours without anything to eat, those with pugnacious dispositions usually start something and it does not take them long to all get into a general fight. This does not worry the officials, as the animals are to be killed anyhow, and they are usually allowed to fight until they become tired or unable.

This morning Dr. D. J. Foster, who resides on Fourth street near the city hall, notified Marshal Crow that he would take out an injunction and compel the city to move the pound, unless it is moved voluntarily, as he and his family could not stand the racket.

As a result it is probable that the pound will be taken down to the barracks, below the city, and established on city property there, which will cause no little trouble, as it will prevent the city from getting many animals on account of the long distance that they will have to be taken by the men and boys who capture them.

BANDMASTER

INNES BANKRUPT.

New York, June 21.—Lawyer Charles Fox of 3 Broad street yesterday filed with the clerk of the United States district court the voluntary bankruptcy petition of Bandmaster Frederick N. Innes. His liabilities are $10,628.58, with assets of $200. The largest creditor is Georgia F. Innes of 149 West Forty-fourth street, whose claim is $6,000.

Recently Mrs. Innes, the bandmaster's wife, won the suit for absolute divorce, which carried with it counsel fees and $25 a week alimony.

The Kaiser Makes a Speech on Religion at Aix La Chappelle.

He Rejoices That His Kingdom Has Been Placed Under the Cross.

PRAISE FROM THE POPE.

Aix La Chappelle, Prussia, June 21—A striking speech on religion was delivered by Emperor William at the city hall after his arrival from Bonn, accompanied by the empress and Crown Prince Frederick William. After observing that the city was the cradle of the German empire, Charlemagne, on whom Rome conferred the dignity of a Roman Caesar, having fixed the seat of government the emperor said:

"What, however, his powerful personality was able to affect, namely, combining the offices of a dozen empires with a Germanic king, was denied his successors, who, striving to uphold the world-wide imperium, forgot the cause of Germania, so that little by little the German lands and people decayed and the Roman empire of German nationality fell to pieces. Now, however, another empire has come to life and its tasks are different from those of ancient days. Confined in their outward limits to the borders of their country the Germans have settled down to the work which has fallen upon them. In this day the young empire is strengthening itself and confidence in it is ever increasing. The mighty German army constitutes the support of the peace of Europe. In conformity with the character of their race the Germans have kept themselves within bounds, far outside the world concerned, in order to be wholly unfettered at home. Our tongue is passing beyond the seas. Every thought of science is first turned to account by us, to be afterwards adopted by other nations. This is the world-wide imperium after which Germanic genius strives.

"But it must not be forgotten that the empire was schooled in simplicity and fear of God. I look to all, priests and laymen, to help me uphold religion among the people, in order that the German name may preserve its health and strength. This applies equally to the two creeds, Catholic and Protestant.

"It is with pride and joy that I am able to tell you that the pope said to my ambassador who went to Rome on the occasion of the Holy Father's jubilee that he had always kept a high opinion of the piety of the Germans, and especially of that of the German army. The pope asked my ambassador to tell his sovereign that the country in Europe where control, order and discipline still prevailed with respect for authority and regard for the church, and where the church could live, was the German empire, and for that the papal see was indebted to the German empire.

"This justifies me," continued Emperor William, "in saying that our two great creeds must, while living side by side, keep in view their one great aim—to uphold and strengthen the fear of God and reverence for religion. Whether we are moderns or whether we labor in this or that field does not matter at all. He who does not found his life on religion is a lost man. I rejoice that I have placed my whole empire, my people and my army as well as myself and my house beneath the cross and under the protection of Him who said: 'Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My word shall not pass away.'"

Emperor William concluded with calling for three cheers for Aix La Chappelle.

ON CONGRESSMAN

WHEELER.

GOT ANOTHER COLLAR BY MISTAKE IN A BARBER SHOP.

The congressman's wife in the Philadelphia Post tells this joke on Congressman Wheeler of Paducah:

"Talking of clothes," said Robert, "there has been a great mix-up over in the house barber shop. You know Wheeler of Kentucky and Dinsmore of Arkansas are not exactly of a size, and they both went to the barber shop at the same time yesterday, and both hung up their collars on pegs side by side. All went well for a time, and Wheeler was the first to be through and go. When Dinsmore came to go he took down his collar and began to tug away at it, and it would not do a thing toward buttoning as usual. The air grew blue and finally he whipped out his handkerchief and tied it around his neck, and was about to go back to the house when Wheeler came rushing in in a tragic way and cried out:

"I've got on somebody's collar and it fits like thunder."

"I should say you have," growled Dinsmore, untying his handkerchief. "I've always heard that a man has got to hang onto his pocketbook when he comes to congress, but I never knew that he'd got to hang onto his collar."

Green, had imposed upon him additional burdens and duties which he can neither neglect or postpone.

PAIN'S POMPEII.

THE BIG SPECTACLE WILL ARRIVE IN PADUCAH BY SPECIAL TRAIN SUNDAY NOON.

W. H. Barry, general agent for Pain's great spectacle, "Last Days of Pompeii," is in the city completing the arrangements for the coming of the big show next Monday night.

"Pompeii" last week attracted the largest crowds that have ever been brought together in Nashville, and the papers of that city were unanimous in pronouncing it the finest spectacular production and fireworks display ever seen in the south, the American declaring it "a pleasing reminder of the centennial's palmist days."

At Memphis last Monday night an audience of over 5,000 people saw the opening performance. The Commercial Appeal of the 17th says:

With all deference to Mount Pelee and the recent magnificent display from that ancient volcano, together with what the imagination can picture of the confusion and terror caused by the awful disaster, it could hardly compare in the eyes of many Memphians with what they saw last night at the opening exhibition of Pain's "Last Days of Pompeii" as given at East End park.

The quiet residents of that neighborhood who had not attended the show had hardly gotten into their first sleep before they were awakened by the awful and terrific explosions which shook all the dwellings for miles around and reminded the older citizens of times during the civil war when they were in the vicinity of some of the heavy bombardments. To those who were on the grounds the terrific noise was accompanied by a beautiful display of fireworks, which if anything outshone the results of old Vesuvius when she made her historic outbreak.

To say it was grand would be but poorly expressing it; it was magnificently so.

Just before nightfall the opening exhibition of the evening's entertainment was given, when Leo Stevens, the "Human Bomb," mounted the air attached to a balloon. He was enveloped in the form of a bomb, and when his balloon had reached a height of about a half mile the slow fuse burning on the sack enclosing him released him and he dropped, together with his parachute, with which he quickly descended to the earth again. This is one of the most wonderful feats ever accomplished by an aeronaut, and has won him fame all over the country.

When the grand march is completed by the entire company of performers the celebration of the festival is commenced. Here are to be seen some of the best acrobatic feats ever performed in the country, while along with that is the dancing of the girls in the flower dance, and the tambourine dance, as if in playful rivalry, being inspired by the shouts of the populace.

On the conclusion of the men's part in the fete day celebrations the girls appeared in a fire dance, which was a beautiful sight and just preceded the grand outbreak, resembling the descriptions of the recent outbreak of Mount Pelee.

The heavy cannonading, which could be heard all over the city, was accompanied by a beautiful display of fireworks which could only be appreciated by those on the grounds who could see the entire show. As explosion after explosion occurred, accompanied by a brilliant light, the ladies in the grand stand held their ears and only watched the beautiful sights. Rockets and other varieties of special fireworks were discharged in the air and aided in making the sight the prettiest pyrotechnic display ever given in Memphis.

Engineer Reginald Duval of Louisville is visiting his mother here.

ECONOMY OF HAVING

TRUST COMPANIES ACT
AS EXECUTOR.

A trust company receives exactly the same commission as an individual when he serves as an executor or administrator, yet it brings to the management of an estate the combined experiences of several men of great ability in financing and management, instead of that of a single individual.

A trust company, being a permanent institution, there is no danger from deaths like there is in the management by an individual. A trust company, also, has its own strong vaults, burglar and fire proof, and offers every protection from fires and other dangers.

A trust company is in the position to secure better investments than a private individual, as this comes in its line of business, and it can usually find such investments quicker than an individual could. A trust company for the same reason is in a better position to dispose of any property if it should be advisable to do so.

The Globe Bank and Trust Co., besides doing a trust company business, does a general banking business and pays interest on time deposits. Office 306 Broadway.

JUNE.

What is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, come perfect days, Then heaven tries earth if it be in tune,
And over it softly her warm ear lays;
Whether we look, or whether we listen,
We hear life murmur, or see it glisten,
Now is the high tide of the year,
And whatever of life hath ebbed away
Comes flooding back with a ripply cheer,
Into every bare inlet and creek and bay;
Now the heart is so full that a drop overfills it,
We are happy now because God wills it;
Joy comes, grief goes, we know not how;
Everything is happy now, Everything is upward striving:
'Tis as easy now for the heart to be true
As for grass to be green or skies to be blue—
'Tis the natural way of living;
Who knows whether the clouds have fled?
In the unscarred heaven they leave no wake;
And the eyes forget the tears they have shed,
The heart forgets its sorrow and ache;
The soul partakes of the season's youth,
And the sulphurous rifts of passion and woe
Lie deep 'neath a silence pure and smooth,
Like burnt-out craters healed with snow.

AN EVENING AL FRESCO.

One of the prettiest entertainments ever given in Paducah as well as a most charming compliment to a visitor, was the Misses Fowler's al fresco evening on Thursday in honor of Miss Virginia Lockett of Henderson, Ky., the guest of Miss Martha Davis. The weather has been sufficiently warm to make any party out-of-doors seem alluring, and this had the additional charm of being the first lawn fete of the season. The grounds were beautifully illuminated with Japanese and fair lanterns of every variety and shade, and the artistic effect of every detail made a satisfying whole that was a pleasure to the eye. Nothing was spared that could conduce to the comfort, pleasure and interest of the guests. Seats were effectively arranged, and grouped tete-a-tete under large umbrellas, hammocks were scattered through the grounds, and chairs, everywhere, invited "stay awhile," which no one was loth to do. An effective arch of evergreens and pretty lanterns was over the front gate.

On a large rug under an artistic umbrella of feathery asparagus vines gay with brilliant lights stood the receiving party, which consisted of Misses Rosebud Fowler, Virginia Lockett, of

Henderson, Martha Davis and Louise Cox, forming a charmingly picturesque group. Miss Lockett and Miss Fowler were gowned in white and Miss Davis and Miss Cox in pink.

Miss Mattie Fowler, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Cook Husbands and Mrs.
Mildred Davis, did the honors elsewhere.

Delicious cherry phosphate was served from a pretty table glittering with cut glass and red candelabra, that stood under an attractive arbor in the center of the lawn. Ices and cakes were handed later in the evening.

A pleasant informality characterized the entire evening, and it was proven that pleasure and comfort were not incompatible. Nor were things to interest and amuse lacking. A string band on the side veranda made sweet music, and a professional singer was much enjoyed. A feature of the evening was the fortune teller's tent in the rear where a mystic Oriental displayed occult powers of penetration.

Though the guest list was confined to the unmarried, and largely to the younger set, there was a number present and the pretty women and airy dresses added to the attractiveness of the scene. It was a most delightful occasion and a memorable one in Paducah society.

PICNIC SUPPER AND

TROLLEY RIDE.

A trolley party was enjoyed by a number of society folks on Wednesday evening. A delightful supper was served between six and eight o'clock at La Belle park, after which the party started on a trolley ride lasting from eight to eleven. The car was beautifully decorated in red, white and blue, and brilliantly illuminated.

A band accompanied the party, making delightful music. The various street car lines were traversed, making a pleasure ride of many miles.

Those who enjoyed the delightful occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. James A. Rudy. Mr. and Mrs. Cook Husbands, Dr. and Mrs. Victor Voris, Mrs.
Mildred Davis, Misses Virginia Lockett of Henderson, Ruth Weil, Martha Leech, Louise Cox, Hallie Hisey, Myrtle Decker, Helen Decker, Lillian Rudy, Laura Sanders, Ethel Morrow, Elizabeth Sinnott, Florence Yeiser,

Belle park pavilion on Tuesday evening, complimentary to Miss Rubie Cowan and Miss Katherine Tinkle of Rutherford, Tenn., the guests of Miss wards, Miss Rubie Cowan of Rutherford, Tenn., Miss Katherine Tinkle of baugh, Shirley, and Dr. Frank

THE COMMENCEMENTS.

This has been commencement week in Paducah, and the closing exercises of the High school and St. Mary's Academy were both largely attended.
Interesting programs were rendered, and each part was well filled. The graduates acquitted themselves with ease and displayed signal ability.

At St. Mary's the three graduates, Miss Anna Halpin, Harold Fisher and Richard Donovan, showed themselves exceptionally talented, not only in a literary and musical way, but afterwards sustaining very ably the leading roles in a historical drama.

The graduating class of the High school was unusually large, being thirty-six strong, and The Kentucky was crowded on Monday evening.
The popularity and prominence of the graduates made it a social occasion of more than special interest. Each one looked charming and "played the part" passing well, and the floral gifts were especially beautiful and varied. A number of next winter's debutantes gave earnest of their social popularity on this occasion.

lightful theater party on Tuesday tained with an informal cinch party at their home on North Fourth street on Wednesday evening, in honor of Miss Katherine Tinkle and Miss Rubie Cowan of Rutherford, Tenn., who are visiting Miss Vennie Edwards. It was a most pleasant occasion. Delightful refreshments were served during the evening.

Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Edwards,

EUCHRE CLUB.

hostess of the Married Ladies' Euchre club on Tuesday afternoon, and entertained very delightfully at her home on North Sixth street.

The first prize was won by Mrs.
James Sherrell, and the consolation prize went to Mrs. Jeff Read. A tempting luncheon was served after the game.

G. Harmeling, Charles T. Graham,
A. J. Reitz, I. Young, James Sherrell, Jeff Read, Frank Wahl, F. W. Katter-john, Pat Lally, Frank Effinger, John

RECITAL FRIDAY EVENING.

An interesting recital was given on Friday evening in the lecture room of the Broadway Methodist church.
Among the numbers were several very delightful readings by Miss Frances Herndon, who has especial talent as an elocutionist, and a charming solo with encore by Miss Birdye Gilbert.
Miss Herndon and Miss Gilbert have just returned from college at Asheville, N. C., where they graduated, and are among the debutantes for the coming season. They are talented, as well as popular.

A PLEASANT EVENING.

Misses May and Nell Bleich, Inez
Kruger, Katherine Holiday, Mr. Ira Pettitt of Paducah were the guests of Miss Marie Duffot Thursday evening.
A social was prepared in their honor, and all who were so fortunate as to be present report an excellent time.
They returned on the midnight special, after spending an enjoyable evening with friends.—Mayfield Messenger.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNICS.

A number of enjoyable picnics have been given during the week by several Sunday schools, either as a whole or by classes. The shades of La Belle park were sought by some, and others went beyond seeking more sylvan solitude. As all-day affairs, or evening suppers, they were alike successful and largely attended by outside guests.

FISHING PARTY.

A pleasant party left here Monday on the Joe Fowler for Smithland, returning home Tuesday. This party included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kiger, Misses Jane Rivers, Ada Enders, Gerald Sanders, Laura Sanders, Messrs.
Abram Weil, Gus Thompson, James Smith.

HAY RIDES.

There were several hay rides indulged in this week, giving a variety and interest to the warm evenings.
Some were given by young men, and others by pleasure clubs, but all proved most enjoyable.

THE COMING WEEK.

Mrs. Jacob Wallerstein has issued invitations to a hay ride for Monday evening complimentary to Miss Aimee Levy of St. Louis, and Mr. Edward Epstein of Louisville. The invitations are quite unique.

city, and has made many friends of this here. She is quite talented and affable.

A SERIAL STORY.

The Sun will, in a few days, begin the publication of a serial story. This has always been one of the most popular features of the larger city dailies, and the management believes it will prove equally so with The Sun readers. The story selected for the inauguration of this feature is Dr. Conan Doyle's powerful story, "A Study in Scarlet." In this story the wonderful fiction character, "Sherlock Holmes," made his first appearance.
It is a good story, and will, we believe, meet with the approval of The Sun readers. The feature will start in next Wednesday's issue.

THE DEMOCRATIC OUTLOOK.

Former President Grover Cleveland made a strong speech at the dedication of the Tilden club in New York Thursday night. The appearance of this able and popular Democrat with Former Senator David B. Hill, one of the same class, is very significant. It means that the old crowd is coming back into power. Note Mr. Cleveland's defiant attitude when he said,
"No confession of party sin should therefore be expected from me. I have none to make, nor do I crave political absolution."

These big guns in the party are shrewd. They see that the other crowd is on the run, and are hard pressing them. They know that the party is beginning to perceive that it can expect more from a man who has twice led it to victory, like Grover Cleveland, than a man who has twice led it to defeat, like W. J. Bryan.
They are tired of fallacies and fancies, and are straggling back to rally around the old leaders. This causes the Republicans no alarm. Even though the Democratic party were at any time large and formidable enough to carry the country, there will always be enough of the rabid, free silver element to keep the party in a constant turmoil, and make defeat inevitable when the other fellows are in power just as the sound money wing has done for it the past several years, since the Populist element became dominant. The party is in such a condition that when Mr. Cleveland, Mr.
Hill and the others walk back in, a whole lot of others are going to walk right out, one of whom will doubtless be Mr. W. J. Bryan, who ought by this time to be able to see his finish.

Senator David B. Hill is an able Democrat, but when he said in his speech in New York the other night that "There is a deep conviction among thoughtful people that there is something radically wrong in the foreign policy of the present administra-

STUDIES METHODS.

not only studies methods of advertising, but he makes a thorough study of human stituency.—Printers' Ink.

tion," he arouses our curiosity. Mr.
Hill does not explain whether he is a clairvoyant, prophet, oracle, mind reader, or just a common, every-day prevaricator. How he became acquainted with the convictions of "thoughtful people" is something he fails to explain. As there is quite a number of "thoughtful people" among our 75-000,000 inhabitants, it would be very interesting to know just how Senator Hill collected his data and arrived at his conclusion, and who deputized him to speak for all those "thoughtful people." It looks very much as if the people are pretty well pleased with the present administration's foreign policy. The vote at the last election indicated it, and the one at the next will be equally as conclusive. The Democrats have undertaken every possible thing that they thought would throw discredit on the administration, but they have gotten the worst of it every time yet. The people seem to be perfectly contented with the Republican party in everything. It is old, tried and true and has made the country what it is.

The Democratic minority report on the bill creating a commission to inquire into the status of the negro race says that there does not seem to be any necessity for such an investigation.
Perhaps not, and yet there might be the advisability for one. It says further that "the negro race can never reach its full development until it is permitted by the government to work out its own destiny, as do the other races with which it comes in contact." It probably never occurred to these sapient Democrats that it is the Democratic party that is keeping the negro from working out his destiny, and as long as he is disfranchised in some states and burned in others the government can render him little assistance in working out that same destiny, except by just such bills as the one the Democrats are now raising such a hurrah over.

A trial for murder that attracted widespread attention has just been concluded at Memphis, the jury being unable to agree whether Mrs. Georgia Emma Hook poisoned her husband or not. The case was a remarkable one, as the court allowed evidence to be introduced tending to prove that the defendant also poisoned a former husband and her own son, two crimes with which she was not charged, and which evidence was no doubt damaging to the defendant. It is perhaps the first case on record in which a person was tried for three alleged murders at the same time.

General Smith, whose methods of subjugating the Philippines—those innocent, warm hearted fellows, who cut five soldiers into so many pieces they had to all be buried together to be certain the right pieces would be in the same place—created such a sensation not long since, has started for this country, which is said to be an indication of his acquittal. He will probably have command of the department of Texas.

Governor Beckham telegraphed to an eastern paper, by request, what he thought of Grover Cleveland's speech.
He thinks that if the party is to be reorganized, it should be by "the faithful," by which he means himself, Colonel W. J. Bryan and Councilman Joe Potter. But it is feared his little jolly will not go. When the Democratic party is re-organized the distinguished gentlemen above will have to be left out.

It is believed that President Roosevelt is so intent on having congress do something towards reducing the tariff on goods imported from Cuba that he will call an extra session of congress if nothing is done before the present session adjourns. There is also talk of his submitting a treaty to congress, if he finally decides that it will do any good. The treaty power is vested in the president.

Former Senator David B. Hill has already gotten into trouble over his speech made Thursday night. Governor-General Wood, who is just back from Cuba, has authorized the publication that Senator Hill is either a very ignorant or a very untruthful man, on account of what was said of General Wood's administration in Cuba.

The Columbian troops do not appear to believe in the Johnny-on-the-spot idea. They deserted their officer, an Austrian, the other day, and left him alone to fight a whole army of insurgents, which he did. They sent back for what was left the following day.
The officer was there, but his troops were still on the run.

POLICE COURT

A Prying Negro Arrested Under Mrs.
Barry's House.

Steamboat Man Fined for Flourishing a Pistol—Other Cases.

George Patrick is the name of a negro who was arrested last night under Mrs. Barry's house, at Sixth and Court streets. Some of the family saw him peeping through the window of the room of a colored employe at the place, and started after him. He ran and crawled under the house, but was hauled out. He claimed he had an appointment to meet the woman, but she swore he did not. The case was left open.

Captain Anderson, a river man, was fined $50 and costs, the lowest fine, for flourishing a pistol. He pleaded guilty.

A breach of the peace case against Jennie Hester and Harry Hodges was continued.

The disorderly conduct case against J. C. Hinton and Mrs. McCann was again continued.

Fina Hamilton was on motion of the prosecuting attorney fined $5 and costs for a breach of the peace.

Amos Caldwell, colored, was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to ten days in jail for carrying a pistol concealed, and in a breach of the peace case, in which he threatened to cut Fannie Battle's throat, he was recognized for his good behavior.

The immorality case against Will Jones and Lena Fowler was dismissed.

COKE FIEND.

JOPPA NEGRO WANTED TO GET RID OF HIS WIFE.

Jasper Perry, a negro cocaine fiend of Joppa, knocked his wife down Thursday and attempted to kill her.
He was unsuccessful however in this attempt. He then tried to commit suicide but only succeeded in inflicting a slight flesh wound upon his hand.

He was dismissed and taken before Squire Thompson who placed him under a $200 bond. Being unable to give bond for this amount he was brought to Metropolis. He is said to be demented from the use of the drug.

SIGNS OF FOUL PLAY.

YOUNG GIRL'S BODY FOUND IN GRAVESEND BAY.

New York, June 21—The body of a 12-year-old girl was found in Gravesend Bay. Several cuts and bruises on the head and hands looked as if they might have been inflicted before death and the police ordered an investigation to determine whether the girl was drowned or murdered and the body thrown into the bay.

THE RIVER NEWS.

The William Towle will be let off the docks Monday.

The Clifton arrived at noon from Tennessee river en route to St. Louis.

The Memphis will pass up tonight for the Tennessee river from St. Louis.

good trip.

The Tennessee will depart this afternoon late for Tennessee river with a good trip.

The Wilford will arrive out of the Tennessee river tomorrow or Monday with a large tow of ties.

The Pittsburgh rise was a disappointment. No coal came out on it, but several towboats got to Pittsburgh on the swell.

The I. N. Hook did not leave today as expected but will await the arrival of the Wilford out of the Tennessee river. She will probably get away by Monday.

The Victor left this morning for Tennessee river with a tow of empty barges for ties. She had been laying up for more than a week on account of low water.

The Avalon is due today from Memphis to Cincinnati. She will be the first boat out of Cincinnati during the next week as the steamer Sunshine is laying up on account of low water.

SUES FOR CHILDREN.

MRS. NORA SHANKS SUES FOR HER HUSBAND FOR THEIR CUSTODY.

Edward and Nora Shanks filed a suit this afternoon against J. T. Barnes, mate on the Dick Fowler, to secure the custody of her two children, Ernest, age 9 and Thomas, age 13.

The petition states that the defendant and the latter plaintiff were formally married and raised the two children in dispute. She has since married and the children have not been given the proper attention. The father, the petition states, is unable to attend to them at present, and when he is at work is on the river and where he cannot give them the proper attention. She asks the court to give her the custody of the boys and also a judgment against the defendant for $300 per month maintenance for them.

OUT EARLY.

EMPLOYE AT THE LANGSTAFF MILL HAD TO GET LUMBER.

Captain W. C. Clark, in making his speech before the board of aldermen Thursday night, told of the many men at Langstaff's mill who owned cows and would have to give them up if required to keep them from running at large. It was of course done for effect, and Alderman Langstaff, who is for the ordinance, paid no attention to it.

He was more than ever convinced this morning when one of his workmen came around to his residence and had him awakened at 6 o'clock to get an order for some lumber to patch up his fence where a cow had torn it down last night in order to get into his garden and ruin it.

INTO BANKRUPTCY.

MR. JULIUS WEIL FILED A PETI-TION THIS AFTERNOON.

Julius Weil, formerly in the confectionery business here, but now a traveling salesman, this afternoon through

GEORGE C. VERNON ARRESTED FOR BREACH OF THE PEACE.

George C. Vernon, traveling representative of the National Cash Register company, Dayton, Ohio, was arrested about noon today for a breach of the peace. It seems he got mad because his bill was sent to him at the Palmer House, and used very insulting language towards Clerk Adams, who threw an ink stand at him.

The two then got together, and a fight ensued, but they were soon separated. Vernon gave bond in the sum of $50.

MORE TROUBLE.

UNION STRIKE AT METROPOLIS
NOT YET SETTLED.

Today all the union men are out in Metropolis, Ill., and only one factory has recognized the unions.

The Rampendahl stove factory management announced several days ago that it would recognize organized labor, but now the plant is closed down for repairs, and all union men are idle. The fight will be bitter, and but few non-union men are employed at the factories. There are only five men at the box factory, and no more than that number at the other concerns. The cut in the forces will materially damage the business interests.

Mrs. Fred Keiser and son of Kansas City have returned home, after a visit to relatives here.

BREWERY MEN

A MYSTERIOUS MEETING AT THE PALMER HOUSE.

There was a meeting of brewery men at the Palmer House last evening.
Present were: L. S. Baur, St. Louis, representing the Anheuser-Busch; Phil Pader, Evansville, representing the Cook Brewing company, Evansville; John G. Kramer, Evansville, of the Fulton Avenue Brewery and George Reichmann, of Henderson, representing the Henderson Brewery.

The gentlemen held a secret conference in one of the rooms, but gave out nothing, and nothing could be learned of what is up.

COMES UP AGAIN

NEXT TIME THE COW LAW WILL PASS THE BOARD.

The cow ordinance will probably come up at the next meeting of the board of aldermen. Mr. Eli Poone, one of the aldermen in favor of the law, will then be here, and will make the necessary majority. It had been known that Alderman Barry was against the law, no vote would have been taken on it last Thursday.

NOTICE.

I have purchased the drug store on the corner of Fourth and Broadway, formerly owned by J. E. Robertson, tion of the patronage by the general public. Dr. A. List will continue to have charge of the prescription department.

Respectfully,
Dr. W. F. Alvey.

WITH THE THEATRES.

In spite of rainy weather a gratifying audience witnessed "A Practical Joke" at La Belle park theatre last night. Neither the inclement weather nor small crowd deterred the players, who gave one of the best performances of the season. Frank Moss, a Paducah boy, made a great hit in a display of fancy lariat throwing. This company will rest during the first part of next week and on Thursday will open with the strong comedy drama, "The Social Swim."

Miss Addie Miller, daughter of Mr. W. T. Miller, the piano man, is winning much popularity at The Kentucky with her well rendered songs. Little Miss Miller is certainly a talented young lady, and sings well for one of her age. This is her first appearance in entertainments in a theatre, and her success is something to be proud of.

Miss Clara Ford, the new member of the English stock, is a favorite. She is a Kentuckian, being a daughter of Mr. Clint G. Ford, of Owensboro, who played a week in Paducah about three years ago at Morton's opera house. Miss Ford has been on the stage for seventeen years, but this does not mean that she is quite a veteran, as she made her first appearance when two years old. Her father played Rip Van Winkle and carried her around in his arms.

The crowd at The Kentucky last night was quite large, and the second presentation of "The Strangers of Paris" was well received. The members of the company pleased the audience and the specialties made their usual hit, especially that of Mr. Leo Florence in songs and dances. He was forced to respond to several encores. Miss Alma Hayes continues to render two of the latest songs every night, and sings them well.

The English Stock company will not play Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Owing to the heavy production of "The Bells" much preparation is needed, consequently performances will be discontinued for these nights, and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights with Saturday matinee "The Bells" will be presented with Mr. James in the great role of Mathias, the role in which Sir Henry Irving created a great sensation for his marvelous character work. Mr. James has never before assumed this role but judging from his powerful character work as seen in other productions it is anticipated he will shine as Mathias. At any rate much interest will be centered on this production, coming as it does from the hands of the world's greatest English actor Mr. Irving. The theatre will be cool and three delightful evenings are anticipated. This Stock Company has simply amazed the theatergoers of Paducah with its wonderfully strong productions considering that they have only two rehearsals of each play. No play has been too good for them, and all have been worth more than the price of admission to witness. The company has only a few more weeks to remain as they must then give way to the regular season's attractions. Many strong plays are promised by them and it is hoped Paducah theatregoers will all avail themselves of the opportunity to enjoy an attraction such as has never before been seen in Paducah.

The ladies free nights have been discontinued at The Kentucky on account of the heavy expense attached to presenting the plays that are produced.

BY MONDAY.

IT IS BELIEVED THE LEATHER-WORKERS WILL BE BACK AT WORK.

The Rehkopf strike is still on and the committee is again holding a meeting with the proprietor to effect a settlement if possible. The trouble is in Mr. Rehkopf's failure to understand the agreement signed up several months ago when the former strike was in effect. The agreement called for one apprentice boy to every ten journeymen in all the branches. He claims to have understood that this agreement affected the employees of the harness shop only, it is said, and therefore has not broken any of the union rules. The union men claim that the agreement affected the harness, saddle and collar shops, and that more apprentices are being employed in the two latter than the rules and regulations of the union allow. It is thought that the little difference will soon be patched and the men will return to work Monday.

UP IN MINNESOTA.

THE WOMEN KNOW HOW.

Food, and good food, is the right kind of foundation to build good health on. A Minnesota woman writes: "I thought I would like to tell you of the good Grape-Nuts has done for me."

"Last winter I got sick and kept getting weaker and weaker. I could not eat anything but some crackers and a little cup of beef tea for every meal, then I was put on Grape-Nuts and used it with some cream for breakfast. My stomach got strong gradually and before I had used three packages my digestion was so good that I could eat any kind of food, even cabbage, pastry, etc., and I notice that my memory is very much better than it used to be."

"On the 5th of July I weighed 102 pounds and two months later, after using Grape-Nuts, I weighed 122 pounds and was able to do my house work."

"This is a good honest statement of facts about Grape-Nuts and you can publish my name if you like."

The Thief... ...of Beauty

Thousands of young women are awaking to the fact that inherited coarseness has been stolen away and instead of glowing cheeks, bright eyes and smooth brows, the tell-tale wrinkles of pain have taken the place of these former charms. These are the warning feelings! Weak, tired and exhausted in the morning, to life, no ambition to enter upon their former pleasures, irritability, cross, discouraged, dull headaches, general dispirited feeling, sleepless nights, cold feet, poor circulation, "bearing down" pains. All these symptoms indicate deranged and weakened organs. Shattered nerves and exhausted energies follow the weakened condition of the female system as surely as night follows day. Save yourself from more terrible results, redeem your youth by taking

MADE AN EXCELLENT TALK.

Among the best addresses ever delivered in Southwest Kentucky was that at the Masonic Celebration at Mayfield Thursday evening by Justice R. J. Barber, of Paducah, on "Woman." Justice Barber has been complimented on all sides for his effort, and the Mayfield Messenger rises to remark in comment: "Who would have thought that Dick Barber, of Paducah, could have made such a good speech, on 'Woman'."

TRAPPING A BLACKMAILER

By HARRY B. CHAPMAN.

"By the way, I saw an old friend

"Who was it?"

"Sherry!"

"You don't say so! How was he?"

"O! all right; not altered a bit.

He asked after you, and told me to remember him to you if I ever saw you again."

"He's a good sort, is Sherry," remarked Wilton.

"He wanted to know if you'd seen Delila lately."

"I was just going to ask you if he had either," and a hearty burst of laughter rang out simultaneously from both men.

"Shut up, you two idiots," I exclaimed, "and talk sensibly. If you have got a joke there between you pass it on and don't be greedy."

Wilton was a chief officer in the Anglo-Columbian line, and had seized the opportunity of his ship being doctored to run up and see me, whilst

Archer was a young doctor and an old schoolfellow of both of us.

"Well," said Archer, "this took place some two years or so ago. I was in treaty for a post as ship's doctor, and one day when I had been kidnapping about Tilbury docks waiting for a man who never came, I went into the pub near to get a drink and something to eat.

"I was just finishing my meal when the door opened and a young fellow hurried in.

"Hullo, Sherry," I said, "what are you doing here?"

"For a moment I thought he was going to faint, he went so white, then he stared at me, vainly, trying to recognize me.

"Don't you remember me, Sherry?"

I'm Archer."

"Frank Archer! So you are! And he shook hands as though I was the one person in the world he was most pleased to see.

I could see he was in an awful state of funk over something, and if the door opened he looked scared, and was generally so nervous that I couldn't stand it.

"What is the matter with you?"

I said.

"O, nothing," he answered, though his face gave the lie to his tongue.

"Then I made a chance shot. 'Who is she?"

"How did you know?" he gasped.

"Didn't know; I guessed. In 19 cases out of 20 there is always a she mixed up in the business."

"Then I carried him off to a private room, where he told me everything.

"Some month or two before he had been out of sorts and consulted a doctor who recommended a sea voyage.

"On looking through the shipping advertisements, he came across one that seemed to be just what he wanted.

"The Isle of Beauty, Capt. Delisle, had accommodation for one or two passengers desirous of taking a trip to or from Madeira—would leave Tilbury in a few days," etc., etc.

"One other passenger, a gentleman, was also going the trip out, intending to winter on the island; and as the days passed Sherry congratulated himself on his choice of ship, for she was a comfortable vessel, well found, and the living was excellent, whilst Capt. Delisle was most agreeable, and Sherry decided to return with him rather than wait for another steamer.

"When he came on board again he went into his cabin without seeing the captain, and before he had been there very long he heard voices in the saloon.

"The captain was speaking, and his voice had a bullying tone in it, which

Sherry had only heard when he was upset by any of the crew.

"Sherry felt a feeling of pity for the wife rise in his heart.

"If this happened when, as yet, he had not seen her, what would it become when he did? In the days when the whole affair was but a memory he raved of her beauty, for when he went in to dinner he was introduced to a dainty little woman, hardly more than a girl, with golden,

real, dazzling golden hair, and eyes like the blue of the sky he had been living under for the last few days.

"The days passed, and the liking he had for the captain gave way in Sherry's heart to wrath and hatred at his contemptuous treatment of his wife, whom he declared to himself was an angel.

"The day before they were due in the Thames matters came to a climax. Sherry heard the captain bullying her in such a fashion that his blood boiled, and he vowed to himself that if he could only persuade her to seek shelter with some of his or her friends, he would take her there as soon as they reached

Tilbury, and then if there was a way of releasing her from her husband without any scandal touching her, he would marry her himself and give her the love she was now without.

"The captain's voice, which now sounded as though he had moved to ward the companionway, was drowned a moment after by the slam of the saloon door.

"Quietly he left his own cabin and entered the saloon. Mrs. Delisle was alone, sitting by the table on which she leaned, her face hidden in her hands, sobbing violently.

"Seizing her hand he told her all his thoughts, of his abhorrence of her husband's cruelty. His desire to help her in any way he could, offered to place her in the care of friends who would care for her until she could be released from her bonds and wound up by declaring his love and devotion for her.

"A slight noise behind him made him turn and there, from the depths of a kind of extra berth which was built in the corner of the saloon, and usually had a curtain over it, came the face and hand of Capt. Delisle, and a moment after that gentleman stood facing the pair.

"You villain!" he said to Sherry. "You infernal villain, to insult my wife in this fashion. What do you mean by tampering with her affections? By heaven, I'll give you the biggest hiding you ever had!" But before he had gone more than a few feet his wife flung her arms around him.

"No, Jack dear, no! For my sake, do nothing rash. Think of what it may mean to us! It would ruin us!" "Sherry was no fool; he saw now he had been the dupe of a pair of rascally schemers, and therefore concluded he had better get out of the trap that had been laid for him as well as he could, so, summoning up all the dignity he could, he said: 'Very well, but you will find that is a game that two can play at.'

"If the captain carried out his threat, Sherry knew his uncle, whose heir he was, would hear of it, and then it would be good-by to all his chances of inheriting the pleasant place and handsome income he had been taught would some day be his.

"To cut the story short, he paid, and to the tune of £500, for which he gave an IOU, so it was no wonder he was upset when I fell in with him."

Having arrived so far with the tale, Archer left off and nodded to Wilton to continue.

"I got dragged into this," began Wilton, "by the long arm of coincidence. I, too, was down at Tilbury that day and chanced to return to town by the same train as Archer and Sherringham; we met on the platform and the tale was told me as we went up.

"I asked what her christian name was, and when Sherry told me 'Delila,' it came to me like a flash. 'Delila Travers,' I shouted; 'I know her. Delila Travers we called her; the prettiest, most unscrupulous hussy I ever met, and one of the best actresses, too.'

"One morning a letter came to Capt. Delisle from a gentleman who was desirous of taking a trip to Madeira. It was written on thick heavy paper and bore an imposing crest at its head, and the writer asked for the answer to be sent to one of the most aristocratic clubs in the West End.

"When the passenger arrived on the day of sailing he was duly received by the captain and turned out to be a young, well-dressed man, who viewed everything with an air of languid impassiveness which nothing seemed to dissipate.

"Mrs. Delisle was also on board; she was taking a voyage to Madeira for her health, her husband said, and the same game was played as was worked on Sherry; the passenger's sympathies were soon aroused on her behalf, so much so that he commiserated with her without any hesitation when her husband was out of the way.

"From his cabin the passenger heard the captain's upbraiding, the sobs of his wife, and the final slam of the door as the captain ended. After an interval of some minutes he strolled in, carrying a revolver in one hand and a rag, with which he was cleaning it, in the other.

"I say," he drawled, 'what a charming husband you have got, to be sure! I quite love him.'

"O, Mr. Waldron," she replied, 'spare me! Is it not enough to be spoken to as you have heard? Cannot you sympathize with me, instead of adding to my misery?' and she began to sob afresh.

"I do sympathize with you; but what more can a fellow do? I can't very well call him out and shoot him, can I? You see, duelling has unfortunately gone out of fashion."

"Suddenly he laughed.

"I say, fancy what would happen if I could challenge him? I'll show you," and taking a match from a box he carried, he stuck it on the point of the small blade of his penknife, which he opened and laid on the table so that the blade pointed upwards.

"He then lighted the match and went round to the other end of the saloon.

EMPTY GRAVES.

A SMALL SIZE SENSATION REPORTED FROM NEAR THE CITY.

A well known farmer of the Hinkleville road reports that his son found two graves some distance back of the cemetery near that road several mornings ago while hunting berries and one of the graves had been relieved of its charge entirely while the other had been half excavated.

The graves were side by side and one was a full size mound while the other seemed to be a child's grave. By the side of the smaller one an empty coffin box was found but the other was only half excavated and the box could not be seen. The boy reported the find to his father. The graves bore no headstones and seemed to have been fresh made.

A COMMITTEE LEFT THIS MORNING TO INSPECT SITES.

Messrs. Harry Wheeler, Fred McCreary and George Duckee, of the local Illinois Central shops, left this morning for Princeton, Dawson, Edenville and Kuttawa to look after a suitable place for holding the annual Illinois Central picnic.

For the past two summers the picnic has been held at Kuttawa but this time it is thought the committee will select another place if any can be found more suitable than the Kuttawa grounds. They will return tonight or tomorrow and report their selection to headquarters for ratification.
